

Television is the number 1 media

Roy Morgan Research figures show that Australians spend more time with television than any other media. Australians, on average, spend 20.8 hours per week watching television.

Time spent with media - all people

