
Consumer Electronics

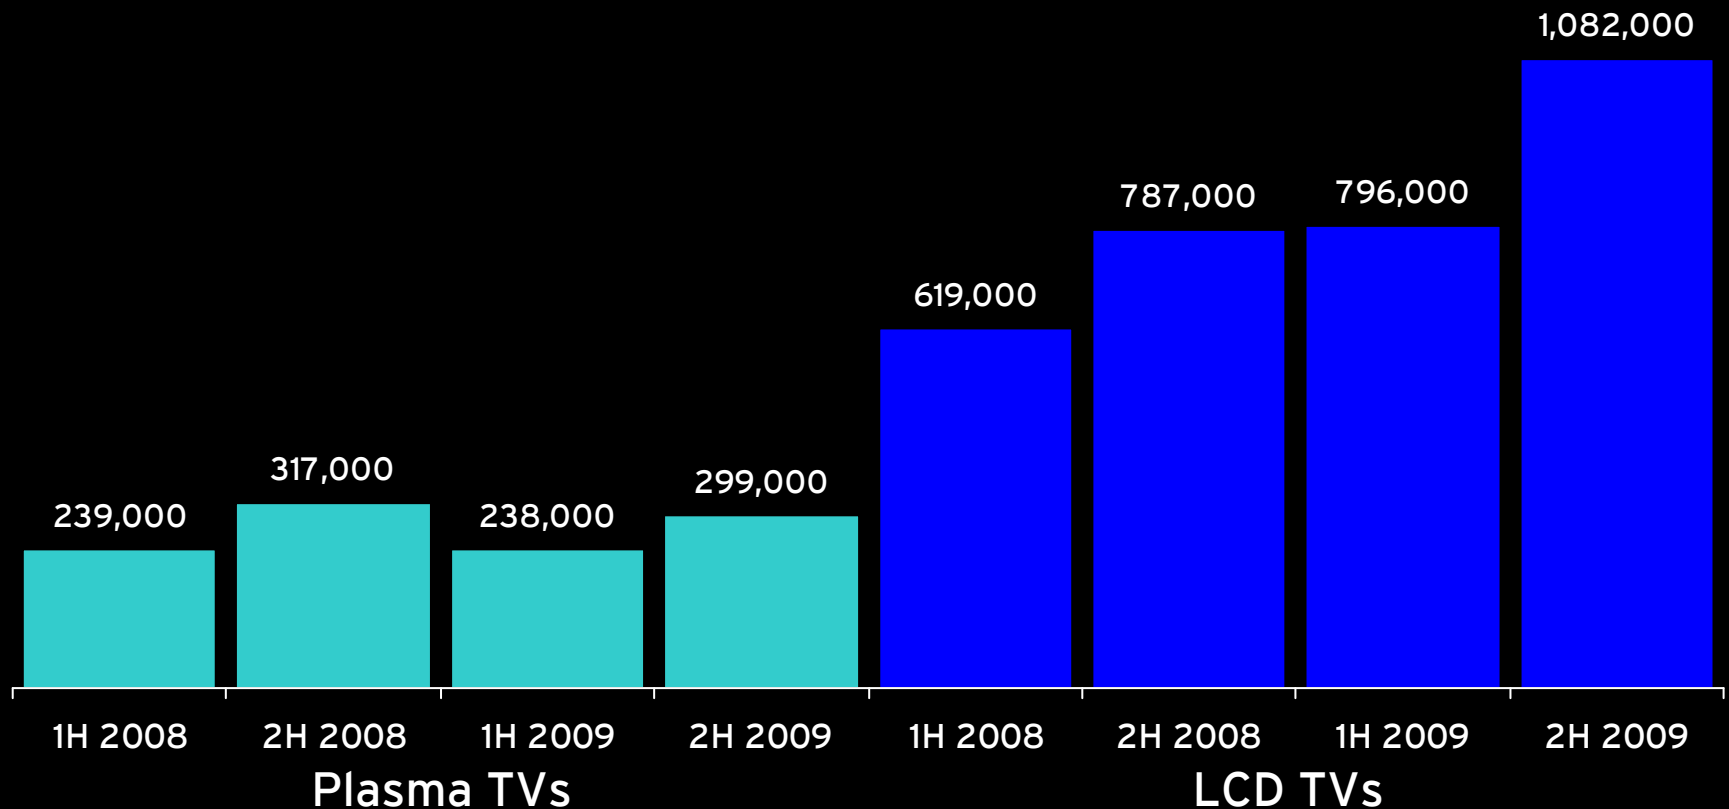

Record sales of consumer electronics

Despite predictions that the economic downturn would significantly impact sales of consumer electronics, 2009 saw record sales of 'digital lifestyle' products - a category now worth $5.90 billion annually.

LCD and plasma TV sales have rocketed

Australians appetite for enhancing their viewing experience isn't waning, the second half of 2009 saw record sales of LCD TVs, topping $1.2 billion.

LCD and Plasma TVs - 6 Monthly Unit Sales - 2008 to 2009

Record sales of consumer electronics

Australians also purchased a range of other digital devices for use inside and outside the home.

Consumer Electronics - Unit Sales - Second half of 2009

